

Automated NPT Calculations Save Time & Deliver More Efficient Field Operations

The inVision® NPT Insight tool simplifies the process of recording and managing non-productive time (NPT) events during frac'ing operations. It allows operators to input NPT directly on a real-time frac time series chart and then categorize the NPT according to their organization's standard categories and codes. Users can add comments and identify the source of the NPT. Additionally, the tool can automate the calculation of product usage and time during NPT events.

The inVision NPT tool Insight ensures precise recording of NPT events down to the second based on operational queues seen on plotlines on real-time frac data. It creates a log of NPT events that can be easily viewed, filtered, and exported to enterprise systems. Automating calculations of time and product used such as water, sand or chemicals reduces valuable time spent determining and analyzing NPT.

The tool offers two service levels: Basic and Enhanced. The Basic level allows detailed event entry, viewing, and exporting while the Enhanced level adds industry leading features such as outcome assignment, vendor attribution, and automated calculations.

The tool replaces manual, time-consuming calculations and record-keeping with standardized, structured data entry and automated calculations. It facilitates information gathering, organization, filtering, and export – improving the ease and speed of vendor communication. Easy export options enable integration with enterprise reporting systems for NPT and Operational Key Performance Indicator reporting.

Create operational efficiencies with the inVision NPT Insight.
